A message from Margaret

Together is better

*Two are better than one,
because they have a good return for their labour:
if either of them falls down, one can help the other up.
But pity anyone who falls and has no one to help them up.*

Ecclesiastes 4:9-10

We live in a Western culture in which an individual's rights are considered paramount. I am constantly encouraged to think whatever I want to think, to believe whatever I choose is right, and to do whatever I please, regardless of others. That is not the way God designed us. It results in loneliness, selfishness, inequity and broken communities which don't work.

The Bible tells us we are made to be together. Genesis talks about the creation of woman, out of Adam's side to be a powerful helper. Two are better than one. God chose the Jewish nation – the descendants of Abraham - to show the world how a community living under God's laws could work. Sadly, it wasn't always successful – even God's people had an incredible capacity to mess up, but God loved them and never rejected them.

When Jesus came, the model for his disciples was not for us to be individuals responding on their own to God, but a community of disciples, the church: a holy nation, a royal priesthood, a body with many parts, living stones being built together. We continue to have the capacity to mess up but, with the help of God's Holy Spirit, we can build a loving community together.

As we start the new year, I want to commit myself to you all as my community. Yes, we are imperfect, yes, some of you will sometimes annoy or frustrate me (but probably not as much as I annoy and frustrate you!) but I want to be a stone that supports others, a hand that holds others' hands, I want to learn to rejoice when you rejoice and to weep when you weep.

Together is better – right?

Margaret Thornton

Collect for the second Sunday of Epiphany

Almighty God,
in Christ you make all things new:
transform the poverty of our nature by the riches of your grace,
and in the renewal of our lives
make known your heavenly glory;
through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord,
who is alive and reigns with you,
in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
one God, now and for ever.

SHAPED BY THE WORD: Sunday 18th Jan, 6.30pm - 7.30pm

Every third Sunday of the month there is an opportunity to gather at St. Leonards for an evening of interactive bible study. We will be seeking to 'behold the glory of the Lord' in scripture and so be 'transformed into the same image of glory'. There will be opportunity to engage with the text in groups, hopefully in creative ways, and pose questions and comments, so that we might grow together in our understanding and amazement at the ways of God. For the January and February sessions we will be looking at the first few chapters of Genesis and growing our biblical imagination as we look again at these texts that form the bedrock foundation for the way Christians are to view life in this world.
